4 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

5 DISTRICT OF NEVADA

6 JOSE LUIS MENDOZA, et al.,

7 Plaintiffs,

8 v.

9 ANGELO JOSEPH GIORDANO, et al.,

10 Defendants.

Case No. 2:23-cv-00376-RFB-NJK

ORDER

[Docket No. 24]

11 Pending before the Court is the parties' joint proposed discovery plan. Docket No. 24. The 12 presumptively reasonable discovery period is 180 days. Local Rule 26-1(b)(1). The parties,
13 however, seek a 205-day discovery period.<sup>1</sup> See Docket No. 24 at 1. When a specific showing
14 has been made that established deadlines cannot be met in a particular circumstance, the Court has 15 found good cause for extension. Here, the parties fail to provide any explanation to justify an
16 extended discovery period or to comply with the requirements for special scheduling. See id at 1-17 3.

18 Accordingly, the parties' proposed discovery plan is DENIED. Docket No. 24. The 19 scheduling order in this case will be as follows:

20	Initial Disclosures:	October 20, 2023
21	Add/Amend Pleadings:	November 14, 2023
22	Initial Experts:	December 14, 2023
23	Rebuttal Experts:	January 12, 2024
24	Discovery Cut-Off	February 12, 2024
25	Dispositive Motions:	March 13, 2024

26
27
28 <sup>1</sup> Discovery periods are calculated from the date the first defendant answers or otherwise appears in this case. Local Rule 26-1(b)(1).

1 Joint Pretrial Order:

2 April 12, 2024, 30 days after the
3 resolution of dispositive motions, or further Court order.

4 Pursuant to Local Rule 26-3, any request for extension of any deadline must be made no
5 later than 21 days prior to the expiration of the subject deadline and must be supported by good
6 cause.

7 IT IS SO ORDERED.

8 Dated: October 10, 2023
